LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The National Superintendents Academy is a national leadership development program established to prepare individuals to serve as America's next generation of superintendents and school district leaders.

National Superintendents Academy was established by Atlantic Research Partners with the goal of successfully preparing new leaders by providing a focused alternative to traditional superintendent training and certification programs. Driven to actively confront the leadership deficit, National Superintendents Academy is a comprehensive development model. We strive to prepare cohorts of education leaders for the academic, political, legal and logistical rigors inherent to K-12 education.

In September 2015, we launched our 2015/16 Chicago cohort. More recent developments have resulted in an exciting partnership. We are exceedingly proud to announce National Superintendents Academy's partnership with The Stuart Foundation to launch our next Superintendents Academy in San Francisco beginning in February 2016. Since its inception in 1985, The Stuart Foundation has been dedicated to educating the whole child.

National Superintendents Academy has developed a robust experience that focus on guiding aspiring superintendents to refine the skills that are imperative to thrive in their positions.

Our admissions process is selective and done on a rolling basis.

Superintendents Academy graduates are highly sought after for their capacity to transform the culture of systems and schools, to dramatically improve student achievement, and to close the achievement gap. Academy graduates have a firm advantage when seeking a Superintendent position.

The program is facilitated and led by an amazing team of master teachers and guests who have served as Superintendents themselves, each boasting a demonstrable track record of success.

The Academy is structured around five two-day sessions. In addition, the program includes up to seven days of online and independent study work.

Our San Francisco 2016 Academy will take place on the following dates:
